SUBJECT: National Science and Technology Week (NSTW)

DATE: 21 June 2016

The Department of Science and Technology (DOST) will be having their National Science and Technology Week (NSTW), which will be held simultaneously at the DOST Complex Bicutan, Los Baños Science Communities in Taguig City and Quezon City, and DOST Regional Offices throughout the country on July 25 to 29, 2016. This event will also coincide with the conduct of the National Invention Contest and Exhibits (NICE) on July 27 to 31, 2016 at the SMX Convention Center.

This year's theme for the National Science and Technology Week (NSTW) is "Juan Science, Juan Nation". All stakeholders of Philippine science and technology are invited to celebrate the country's achievements in broad fields of science, engineering, mathematics, and other technical disciplines.

In line with this, the DOST invites primary and secondary-level students to attend this week long event. Please coordinate with your respective DOST Regional Offices or at (02) 837-2939.

Thank you so much.
